

Truman To Accept At Lamar

Open-air Speech At Courthouse On August 31, Roosevelt Announces

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—President Roosevelt today approved plans for his fourth term running mate, Sen. Harry S. Truman to accept the vice presidential nomination August 31 in an open-air speech at the court house in Lamar, Mo., Truman's birth place.

Truman disclosed this after a white house visit where he held his first conference with Mr. Roosevelt since he was nominated for vice president.

The senator said he also would make a campaign speech on Labor day at Detroit, but beyond that his political speech-making was in the hands of the Democratic national committee.

Truman said he hoped the committee would not call upon him to make too extensive a campaign as he still was busy with three of the most active senate committees—military, appropriations and interstate commerce.

Talked campaign plans He said he discussed campaign plans with the president only briefly because most of the talk

Truman was asked whether he had seen Senator Bennett Champ Clark, (D-Mo) recently defeated for renomination by Missouri State Attorney General Roy McKittick. Truman said "Clark and I are in agreement and he is going to support the Democratic ticket."

concerned reconversion legislation. He said he would see the present on this subject soon.

The Republican presidential nominee's expression of fear that the Dumbarton Oaks conferences of American, British, Russian and Chinese representatives appeared headed toward a "four-power" alliance, drew Democratic criticism, but Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) declared:

"If nothing of the sort develops in the various plans now to be considered, the results will vindicate his position and we shall be more than ever united in our peace aims. He owes it to America to make his views plain at all times."

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee asked "Why should Governor Dewey make a luftwaffe air attack on the impending Dumbarton Oaks conference before it convenes?"

Critical of Statement He contended Dewey's statement at Albany this week was "calculated to handicap the conference" and suggested that Dewey should "not drag down into the mire of partisan politics this great undertaking."

Accepts Liberal Party Nomination

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—Senator Truman (D-Mo) accepted today the vice presidential nomination of the Liberal party of New York State. He told a delegation which visited his office that "I feel that all the liberal elements in the country will be united behind the Democratic ticket" in the November election.

In turn, Alexander Rose of New York City, chairman of the delegation, told President Roosevelt's running mate that the Liberal party expects to cast 400,000 votes for the Roosevelt-Truman ticket in New York state alone. The party, he said, also will conduct a campaign among other "progressive groups" nationally.

The Liberal party was formed by right wing elements of the American Labor party. It circulated petitions to put the names of President Roosevelt and Vice-President Wallace on the New York state ballot, but announced that Wallace had declined the nomination and that Truman's name would be substituted. Party spokesmen said the petitions, filed in Albany earlier this week, bore 175,000 signatures.

Bothwell Hospital Notes Mrs. Lawrence Brockman, Cole Camp and Eugene Beckman, Cole Camp, dismissed.

Mrs. Marion Marr, Smithton, admitted for medical treatment.

Billy Evans, Dal-Whi-Mo court, Dean Tuggle, 620 West Fourth street and Margaret Satterwhite, 18 South Quincy avenue, admitted for tonsillotomy.

Questioning Convicts in Lamar Killing

One Arrested Thursday, Two Picked up Today

SKIATOOK, Okla., Aug. 18.—(P)—Police Chief A. M. Bean said two escaped Oklahoma convicts were hunted down by bloodhounds about 1:30 p. m. today near Sperry and headed for Tulsa for investigation in the slaying yesterday of a Missouri sheriff, Roy Patterson, and his son, Sam.

Bean said the pair, Frank Sears, 23, and Dale Branscum, 27, were nabbed without resistance on a road after being routed in a brushy section by the dogs a mile west of the neighboring town south of here with highway patrolmen and Tulsa officers participating in the capture.

The two, together with a companion, Donald Beene, 20, who was caught here last night, maintained silence about the shooting of the Pattersons near LaMar, Mo., which followed a filling station robbery. The trio walked off Tuesday from the state prison farm at Stringtown, a branch of McAllister state penitentiary.

Expect Missouri Officers Missouri authorities were expected here to question the men, all of whom were from this vicinity.

The search narrowed to this vicinity this morning after Sears was surprised in the pre-dawn hours in an attempt to steal the automobile of Mayor Ray Branstetter, according to Bean.

"I was so close to him that I could recognize him," the chief said. "When he saw me, he jumped into some brush and we lost his trail. But they're still around town close somewhere."

Block Major Roads Eight highway patrol cars blocked all major roads in the area.

Third convict at large is Dale Branscum, 27 year old Sand Springs youth shown on the Tulsa county jail records as having gone to McAllister Feb. 2, 1942, to serve four concurrent terms of seven years each on four charges of armed robbery in a series of hijackings in Tulsa.

Chief Bean stated he believes that Branscum is now armed. Both Chief Bean and Warden Richard Conner said today that the trio appears to answer the description of the men who shot and killed the Missouri sheriff and his son in the aftermath of a filling station holdup at Jasper, Mo.

Shave Heads of Pretty Girls

By Dana Adams Schmidt Representing The Combined American Press

ST. RAPHAEL, Southern France, Aug. 18.—(P)—Twenty-five pretty girls had their heads shaved by the town's leading barber in front of the town hall today as punishment for having been too friendly with the Germans.

While jeering townspeople and embarrassed American soldiers crowded about, the girls were plunked one by one into the chair in the center of the square. They had been condemned to the punishment by a seven-man committee of liberation.

Pfc. F. L. Kale Dies of Burns

Injured at SAAF When Gasoline Tank Truck Exploded

Pfc. F. L. Kale, 28, who was burned Wednesday, August 9, when a section of a gasoline tank truck, of which he was the driver, exploded at the Sedalia Army Air Field, died at 8:15 o'clock this morning at the station hospital, according to Lieut. Col. James R. Wergin, acting base commander.

His wife, Mrs. Lottie J. Kale, of Shelby, N. C., was with him when he died. She was called to his bedside immediately after the accident. He also is survived by his mother, Mrs. Susie L. Kale, of Shelby, and a son, F. L. Kale, Jr.

Pfc. Kale worked for Tillman Service stores, an auto parts concern, in North Carolina, and was an insurance salesman for a short time before entering the army. He was graduated from the Shelby, N. C. high school.

Fell Beneath Truck When the explosion occurred at Pfc. Kale was working on the truck about 3 o'clock in the afternoon he fell beneath the trailer tank and was enveloped in flames.

Without regard for his own safety a passing soldier, Cpl. Hershel W. Strupel, whose home is in Waco, Texas, pulled Pfc. Kale from beneath the burning truck, and the seriously burned soldier was rushed to the hospital. Cpl. Strupel lives in Warrensburg while being stationed at SAAF. He was not burned, although a private who helped remove equipment was slightly burned.

The body was brought to the Gillespie funeral home and will be sent to North Carolina for burial, and will be accompanied by military escort.

Lieut. Commander Sullivan Arrives Back in States

Lieut. Commander Joseph P. Sullivan, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Sullivan, 1119 West Sixth street, has arrived in the states after spending a year and a half in the Pacific, and early this morning telephoned his parents from Seattle, Wash. He expects to be home on a leave in a couple of weeks.

Visitor Finds Sedalia Boys Are Honest

Loses Purse With $115, Finds it was Tawen to Police

Three boys, whose honesty this morning brought them a $10 reward, all told Mrs. Grace Litzelfelner of St. Louis who had lost her pocketbook with $115 in it, "We all belong to the Boy Scouts and attend Sunday school."

They had found the purse lying next to the curb in front of the Bothwell hotel about 6:30 o'clock this morning and took it to police headquarters, where they turned it over to Desk Sergeant George Maness.

Jackie Tindle, Billy Stevens and Jerry Moppus compose the trio and were summoned to police headquarters at noon to receive their reward from Mrs. Litzelfelner. She told the boys, "I am very happy to have the opportunity to meet such fine boys. You must have wonderful parents and I am sure the training you have received in the Boy Scouts is very fine. I want you to know and I want you to tell your parents how much I appreciate your finding my purse and turning it over to the police in hopes of finding the owner."

Boys Were Happy

The expressions on the faces of the boys were of satisfaction, knowing they had done their "good deed" for the day. But the expressions were sparkling when Mrs. Litzelfelner told them she wanted them to take the ten dollars reward, which she had offered. The boys readily volunteered: "We will use it to get parts for our bicycles and of course use some of it to get some Scout equipment."

The boys are all paper carriers and were just starting out on their routes when Billy said "Wait a minute." The other two turned around to see Billy looking at something next to the curb. Off their bicycles they went and made a dive for the purse. It was lying open and the money and papers could be seen.

"We just made a scramble," Jerry said, "to see what was in it." "I started counting the money," said Jackie. "We looked to see if we could find who owned it," Billy explained, then added, "But we weren't sure so Jackie said we had better take it to the police station."

Dropped in the Street

Mrs. Litzelfelner explained that she must have dropped it as she got out of a taxi cab in front of the hotel about 2:15 o'clock this morning. It remained in the street by the curb until the boys found it, evidently no one noticing it there.

Jackie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tindle, 1205 South Stewart avenue. His father was former night chief of police. Billy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stevens, 1213 West Tenth street and Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Moppus, 1014 South Massachusetts avenue.

Billy and Jerry belong to Boy Scout troop No. 52 and Jackie is a member of Scout Troop No. 56.

Mrs. Litzelfelner is a representative of the Children's Home Society of Missouri, headquarters in St. Louis.

Nazis Retreat Toward Rouen; Allies Spread Out 50 Airmiles

American Casualties In South France Less Than 300, Nazi Prisoners 7,000

ROME, Aug. 18.—(P)—Forces of the U. S. Seventh Army swiftly expanded their front in southern France today, reaching the vicinity of Solles-Pont, six miles north-east of Toulon.

Other units, stabbing northward against crumbling enemy resistance, advanced seven miles to the Brignoles area, 20 miles north of Toulon.

In the sector farther east forward elements moved three miles or more west and southwest of Draguignan, a road center 18 miles inland in the Argens Valley.

By Edward Kennedy

ROME, Aug. 18.—(P)—Enemy resistance in Southern France was officially reported crumbling today before the advance of the U. S. Seventh Army, now consolidated into a mighty striking force by the union of all the elements landed on the Riviera beachhead from the sea and air.

Known American assault casualties thus far total less than 300, Allied headquarters said, while German prisoners, including a general and his staff, were estimated at 7,000 with the count still incomplete.

Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's forces struck inland through the valleys of the maritime Alps and spread out 50 airline miles along the coast both east and west. Last official reports placed them within 10 miles of the once French naval base of Toulon and within six miles of Cannes. German broadcasts hinted that the resort town already had been penetrated.

(BBC monitors in London reported hearing Turkish broadcast which said "Allied forces have landed at Durazzo in Albania," a report indicating an Allied thrust into the Balkans. There was no confirmation.)

Have Big Part of Road

Doughboys already possess a big chunk of the main lateral road across southern France, which in this area parallels the coast about a dozen miles inland. They were a considerable distance up the road that runs into the Rhone valley by way of Aix-en-Provence, 14 miles north of Marseille.

The situation in southern France was going so well that Mediterranean air forces were able to divert bombers to Balkan targets again. Tactical aircraft swept over the skies in support of ground troops without meeting any opposition.

The Nazi command had entrusted the defense of the invasion area to two German infantry divisions, the 242nd and the 148th. The main Allied thrust was made between those two divisions, creating considerable confusion among enemy troops already badly battered by bombing.

While the invaders have extended their beachhead 50 airline miles along the coast, actually it is double that distance because of the extremely tortuous shoreline. Officially the troops were reported 25 miles inland, but unofficial reports put them beyond 30 miles.

Using Aircraft Carriers

A naval communique disclosed that aircraft carriers were being used with American and British planes operating from them, not only to give cover to warships but to bomb and strafe enemy positions.

The Germans were reported concentrating hundreds of river barges on the Seine for a "Dunkerque" escape attempt.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 18.—(P)—Americans fighting around Orleans are meeting desultory opposition from the German "stomach" battalion. The unit is made up of inferior soldiers with stomach ailments who, because of their special dietetic requirements, were formed into a single unit.

He was sent overseas April 18, 1943 and was transferred from field artillery to the infantry, first division of the First army. He landed at Gela, Sicily and was in the battle of Sicily. From there he was sent to England for a rest. On D-day, the First American division and 50th British division were the first to land in France. Pvt. Baslee was wounded shortly after he hit the beach where they landed. He has had two operations and is awaiting a third.

Missing Goods Dangerous

Five cans of red squill, used for rat poison, were stolen Wednesday night from the garage of W. Scotty Crawford, 1009 East Sixteenth street, he reports to police. Red squill as diluted is not poisonous, but in its crude form it has to be handled with caution, he states. The squill stolen was in the crude form, and if whoever took it is still in possession of the squill, he may return it to Mr. Crawford's garage without any further questioning, he says.

Mr. Crawford in a statement to the county clerk, warns: "You are fooling with merchandise that may be very dangerous. However, who ever you are, if you are going to market it, be sure to dilute it as I do not take any responsibility on the stolen goods."

Paralyzing Jap Sea Lanes

Bombs From Air Sink 1,000-Ton Japanese Freighter

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Aug. 18.—(P)—An Allied air and naval blockade spread creeping paralysis today across vital sea lanes below the Philippines, posing an ultimate threat to all Japanese holdings south of China.

Already enemy garrisons on islands scattered along a distance of 800 miles are forced to rely on "makeshift shipping," inadequate "for even essential items such as munitions and aviation gasoline."

A graphic picture of this mounting disaster for Nippon was presented today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur in a communique reporting the fifth air raid this month on the Philippines and the knocking out of 23 planes at neutralized Halmahera.

MacArthur said Japan's big ships no longer dare venture southeast of a line curved from the Philippines through Celebes and Ceram.

Use Only Small Ships Only small ships, sailing vessels, luggers and "local small craft" supply outlying garrisons on Halmahera and in the Ceram, Banda and Arafura seas.

In that area, extending south toward Australia, are such enemy bases as Ceram, Ambona, Boeroe, the Kai, Aroe and Tanimbar islands.

Today's communique reported the sinking of 1,000 ton freighter in Davao Gulf, southern Philippines, by aerial bombing. It also told of an 87-ton bombing of Halmahera where 88 planes have been destroyed or put out of action, practically all of them on the ground, in half a month's time.

An Understanding For Occupation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—President Roosevelt said today there was a rather general understanding among the Allies for occupation of Germany regardless of how or when the Nazis give up. The president told a news conference that while there were no detailed arrangements there was a general understanding with Russia and Britain on the question. He said you could not plan all the details in advance, but everything was going along all right.

German Dispatches Place Yank Tank Columns 12 Miles West of Paris

By The Associated Press LONDON, Aug. 18.—Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's tanks thundered into the immediate environs of Paris today in what appeared to be a new galloping roundup of German forces retreating toward Rouen on the Seine.

The Paris radio had been off the air 24 hours, a possible indication that the Germans either were destroying communications facilities in Paris or that the situation was so chaotic that regular radio channels were unable to operate.

By Wes Gallagher

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Aug. 18.—(P)—Germans south of the Seine are in full retreat today in the general direction of Rouen.

Rouen is 75 miles north-west of Paris on the meandering Seine.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Aug. 18.—(P)—American armored patrols were reported operating today in the vicinity of Paris, with its famous Eiffel tower already in sight, as supreme headquarters announced that the entire Allied northern flank had begun moving eastward along the Normandy coast toward LeHarve.

(A dispatch of the German-controlled Scandinavian Telegraph Bureau said American tank columns were only 12 miles west of Paris and that there was a war of movement in the area adjacent to the capital. Transocean said U. S. armor had reached Rambouillet, 20 miles southwest of Paris on a highway from Chartres. On another Chartres-Paris highway to the south, German reports had placed an American spearhead at St. Arnould, 23 miles from Paris.)

A field dispatch from Associated Press war correspondent Edward D. Ball disclosed the American approach to Paris without indicating how close the patrols had penetrated, but supreme headquarters announced the fall of Aunay, 30 miles south southwest of the capital, and five miles nearer than advance elements had previously been placed officially.

Take Action

Author, just west of Etampes, was captured by one of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's armored columns in a lightning drive 21 miles due east of Chartres beyond the Aunay river.

Giving instructions to patriots within the city, a supreme command spokesman said over the American broadcasting station in Europe (Absie) that "the day is not far off when you will have to rise and chase out the enemy and his accomplices."

"You can already hear the guns and soon you will hear the rumble of the tanks," the spokesman added.

In this eastern surge the Allied forces captured Bures, one and one-half miles northeast of Troarn and plunged across the Dives river occupying Bassenville, three miles from Troarn and five from the coast.

Other towns captured in this drive on the heels of fleeing remnants of the German Seventh army included Meizidon and St. Pierre-sur-Dives, on the Dives river, 14 and 18 miles southeast of Caen. Above Meizidon the Allied troops reached the Dives river north to beyond Troarn.

Acknowledge Defeat Forty and more miles east of Troarn Allied bombers yesterday had wrecked most bridges spanning the river Risle from Foulbec near its mouth to La Ferriere-sur-Risle, 35 miles upstream. The Risle flows west of the Seine and parallel.

(The Germans acknowledged they had lost the battle of Normandy, a broadcast said the fleeing forces were trying to escape another large Allied trap.

Samuel Tells a Story of Gentleness in Time of Strife Much Like Our Own. Text: I Samuel 3:19-21; 7:3-12

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The story of Samuel, prophet and judge in Israel, leader of his people, is so rich a human document that one is tempted to forget about the prophet and center attention on the man. Perhaps we can devote a little interest to the man behind the prophet.

His duty and destiny were marked from the beginning. Not all boys consecrated to God tasks by their mothers fulfill their mothers' high purpose, but Samuel confirmed his mother's pledging of him to religious service; he grew up willingly in the service of Eli, the high priest in the temple, and as he served, imbibed training and discipline to qualify to become Eli's successor. He stands in contrast to Eli's reprobate sons, a sincere and devoted priest, a lover of Israel, thoroughly consecrated to the protection and welfare of his people.

In our more peaceful days we would have called Samuel's time and environment barbarous and full of brutality and ruthlessness. It is with sad reflection that we speak of them now as times like our own, and the later life and the grim realism with which Samuel faced wartime ruthlessness are in striking contrast with the picture of the gentle child growing up in the temple.

Extermination of enemies then was on a lesser scale than the mass murders perpetrated today. In all the tragic history of the Jews, never has there been such slaughter as in our own time which has seen the doom of millions. Agag, the ancient foe of Israel, was the Hitler of that time and it is against the background of his atrocious acts that one must picture that bloody scene when Samuel with his own hand "hewed Agag in pieces before the Lord" (I Samuel 15:33). It is a stern narrative for our times. Agag tried to cover the atrocities with smooth words, but Samuel was relentless. "As thy sword hath made women childless, so shall thy mother be childless, among women."

From such scenes it is pleasant to turn to an episode of romantic love, and there is one character in the story of Samuel who deserves a little more attention than he usually gets. It is Elkanah, the father of Samuel, and in what we are told of him we see that Samuel was the child of a deep and noble love.

According to the custom of the time, Elkanah had more than one wife. The childless Hannah, whom he loved deeply, was the object of reproach and ridicule by the other wife, Peninnah, by whom he had sons and daughters. When she wept in grief and would not eat because of her rival's taunts, Elkanah tried to comfort her with loving words, "Am I not better to thee than 10 sons?"

There was gentleness and tenderness even in that rough age, and it is good to remember how much of gentleness and tenderness there is today, though the clouds of tragedy and suffering and cruelty hang heavily over the whole world.

I think it was a Frenchman who, in the darkest days of World War I, remarked that the war would not prevent the coming of spring.

Success

What is the true meaning of success? Is it the acquisition of power or wealth, the attainment of fame, the realization of long-felt ambitions? The worldly may conceive one or more of these achievements to be the ne plus ultra of human existence. But surely life has more significance than the attainment of goals that, at best, are transitory and fleeting?

Looking at life through spiritual eyes does not mean minimizing the value of temporal things, but relegating them to their proper place. Life ultimately is not a matter of how much learning we can cram into our minds, or how much money we can accumulate in our few hurried years. It is a matter of how rich we can make our souls; how noble our minds; how pure our hearts how kindly our understanding. The truest criterion of success is how we rate with God—and with our inner selves.

It is the function of religion to guide men's minds toward high spiritual objectives. Religion teaches men to pray that they may attain the riches of God's love; to live nobly that they may discover the lasting joy of a clean conscience to deal justly with others that they may themselves find justice. It is through religion that we learn to understand the paradox in human life of the rich failures and empty successes we see about us.

Burn Their Own Towns

LONDON, Aug. 19.—(P)—The retreating Germans are burning their own towns and villages along the East Prussian border to prevent their being of use to the advancing Russians, the Moscow radio said today.

(An NBC broadcast from Moscow said the Red Army was reported to have crossed into Germany. The Red Army reached Estonia. The drive across the lake, the East Prussian boundary yesterday).

The German communists said the Russians—mopping up an estimated 200,000 Germans trapped in the Baltic states—had crossed Lake Peipus and are established on the west shore in 30 miles wide in places, possibly outflanked the second largest Estonian city of Tartu (pop.: 60,000). Russian troops were 16 miles southeast at last reports.

The Germans also announced they had lost Vilkauskis in Lithuania, 12 miles from East Prussia, in a heavy tank battle in which large air formations participated.

The Moscow broadcast, recorded by the Soviet Monitor, said Soviet fliers spotted fires along the whole East Prussia frontier.

"Schirwindt is burning," one flier reported, "let them burn it. Now they are burning their own towns, not ours."

Nazi Forecast of Revolution in Equipment

Talk Revised Strategy

The paper asserted the Allies were making the most of their "present superiority in men and material" in an effort to end the war by autumn. It reasoned that as a stop-gap measure German commanders in the west could use divisions in France "which so far have not taken part in the invasion battles," but that revised strategy was necessary — as it was on the Russian front when German retreats began.

Beobachter then said the Germans were going to pull out of large sections of France. The reason for this, it added, was to "maintain operational freedom" pending a "revolution in German armament production."

"German commanders in France above all are trying not let operational freedom slip from them before total mobilization on the home front bears first fruits," the paper went on. "Germany is conducting mobile warfare in France with the aid of one day changing the whole aspect of the war with a revolution in German armament production. This, the final goal, is more important than holding on to French towns or departments."

Beat by Selectees

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Aug. 18.—(P)—Six men who described themselves as conscientious objectors were back at their homes today after telling Fort Leavenworth authorities they were beaten by other selectees while en route by bus to the induction center to take physical examinations.

Maj. G. B. Nemic, commanding officer of the induction station at the reception center, said the six reported they were beaten and given hair cuts with pocket knives during the trip to Leavenworth Wednesday.

Statements were taken from the men, officers said, after they had asked to be allowed to register a complaint.

Names of the six men were not disclosed.

Maj. William Wurgler, public relations officer at the fort, said the army plans no investigation. He explained that the men were in a contingent of 35 being sent to Leavenworth for examination prior to army induction, and still were under jurisdiction of their selective service board. No army personnel was involved.

Bennett C. Clark, who was defeated for the senatorial nomination by McKittick.

"I don't want the job," Pool said. "If McKittick were defeated it might cause resentment toward me, even though I worked as hard as possible for the whole ticket."

Pool last week appeared for Democratic party unity in a news letter from state Democratic headquarters, declaring "personal feelings must be cast aside."

Conflict Over Returning Veterans Jobs

Difference of Opinion on Meaning Of Governing Law

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(P)—A developing conflict between union seniority and veterans' preference in the rehiring of ex-servicemen was out in the open today after a debate between a selective service official and a union representative.

Employers were left in the middle, still apparently caught in the crossfire of union versus selective service interpretations of the selective service law.

Col. Paul H. Griffith, chief of the veterans' personnel division of selective service, contended in a discussion yesterday before the national industrial conference board, that a returning veteran "is entitled to his old job back even though he displaces a man with greater seniority."

Victor G. Reuther, assistant director of the war policy division of the United Auto Workers (CIO) told the private research organization, made up chiefly of employers in industry, that such a policy seemed "foreign to the intent" of the act and it would "be a big mistake to get jobs for veterans by taking them away from someone else."

Reuther asserted the interpretation of the act would create dissension pitting veterans against civilians, and would give veterans "superseniorty."

Griffith declared he was for "superseniorty" for veterans. Griffith cites the law saying a man is entitled to his job back if: 1—He reports within 40 days; 2—His discharge was honorable; 3—He is qualified to do the work; 4—the employer's circumstances are not changed radically.

Those conditions meant, Griffith said, a "returning veteran gets his job even if this means displacing a non-veteran with more seniority."

Large Crowd at Weiner Roast

The weiner roast given by USO Thursday evening at Liberty park for the members of the SAAF band was attended by about one hundred fifty persons. It was also the August meeting of the GSO.

The food was prepared by the Service Wives and served by the GSO council with Mrs. A. R. Beach in charge of the arrangements. Members of the Service Wives club on the committee were, Mrs. O. L. Heckart, chairman; Mrs. Lois Peterson, Mrs. P. A. Costello, Mrs. John Towers, Mrs. Clifford Hayes, Mrs. Louise Tuttle, Mrs. Donald Brothlund and Mrs. Dick Boone. Counselors who served the food were Mrs. Carl Urban, Mrs. Leo Bloess, Mrs. Frank Fisher, Mrs. A. W. Johns, Mrs. E. F. Hausam, Jr., Miss Juanita Young and Mrs. R. L. Weinrich. Two members of the War Dads assisted with the ovens, R. L. Weinrich and William Anderson.

Special guests were Warrant Officer and Mrs. Thomas F. Wilson and Rev. and Mrs. H. U. Campbell.

A band concert by the SAAF band followed the supper and was well attended.

A dance was held in the convention hall from 9:00 to 11:00 o'clock.

Wants Opinion On Training

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—President Roosevelt today urged the American people to gradually form an opinion on the need for a one-year's postwar training for youths from 17 to 23, both in a military and a civilian way.

He told a news conference that he did not have compulsory military training in mind because the 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 boys who might be available for such training would be given a combination of military and civilian training.

Fewer Votes

In November

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The total vote in this year's presidential election is in for a big drop from the nearly 50,000,000 recorded in 1940 if the aggregate of ballots of both parties in recent state-wide primaries is any indication of the November turnout.

An Associated Press survey of elections for governor and senator in 18 states showed today vote declines in 16 ranging up to nearly 50 per cent of 1940 or 1940 primary totals. Primary registrations also were off compared with recent years. Only Ohio and South Carolina polled larger votes.

Both parties recorded fewer votes in most instances. Some of the decreases were attributed to lack of contest in contrast with former years, but on the whole the 16 states polled over 2,500,000 votes less than in the most recent comparative statewide primaries.

Important factors in the decline include the millions of service men scattered all over the world and the migration of workers to war plant centers. These were apparent two years ago when the off-year congressional elections brought out only about 30,000,000 votes.

Illinois' aggregate Republican and Democratic primary vote for governor was off 36 per cent compared to 1942. Part of this was due to the fact that there was no contest in the Democratic primary. The total vote was 1,252,252 as against 1,963,298 in 1942, a decrease of 711,046.

Sports Roundup

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(P)—Tired Collins, the radio man, has hired Stage Designer Russell Patterson to design green and gold uniforms for his Boston Yanks footballers. Jimmy Crowley should be able to provide a good Irish green background and Collins, no doubt, will supply the gold. . . . After every fight, welterweight Aaron Perry piles a lot of sliced fruit in a salad bowl, heaps a quart of chocolate ice cream on it and feasts on the mess. It takes him three days to work off the extra weight, which may explain why Manager Harry Garsh expects Aaron to come out of the army as "another" Joe Louis instead of a "miniature" Joe. . . . George Munger, Penn. football coach, devotes his early morning hours to canning vegetables from his victory garden.

Sidetracked
When Lou Arbers first decided to shake the dust of Herkimer, N. Y., from his shoes, he went down to the railroad yards to hop a train for Detroit, where he hoped to get a job in an automobile factory. . . . The first freight that came along was headed east, but Lou climbed aboard any way and eventually reached New York. . . . With only $1.50 in his pockets, Ambers spent the night in a phone booth, but when he learned that Kid Chocolate and Tony Canzoneri were going to fight in Madison Square Garden, Lou decided to invest most of that dough in a top-galley seat. . . . That battle convinced Ambers, who had done a little fighting, that there was a future in the ring business and he didn't change his mind until after he had won the lightweight title.

Notes and Quotes
Johnny Mauer, has been dragging his U. of Tennessee basketballers out of bed for 6:15 a. m. workouts to avoid the summer heat and maintains "It's not too bad, once you get used to it." . . . Babe Ruth argues that big league baseball magnates should do something to encourage eight and nine-year-olds to play ball. "That's when the players of the future are developed," he says. . . . The Green Bay Packers have written all players on their draft list who are in service and who have school work to finish to plan on returning to the campus after the war. Says Coach Curly Lambeau: "Competition for places on major league teams will be so tough those players with unfinished school work will be better off to get a degree before risking a tryout in professional football."

Service Dept.
Corp. Michael Rizzo of Camp Blanding, Fla., is claiming a new hand grenade throwing record of 83½ yards. And Pvt. Billy Harrell of Chanute Field, Ill., puts in his bid for the sit-up record, having done 6,666 without a halt in 7 hours and 15 minutes. . . . Sgt. Charles Kopp, the Marine correspondent of Camp Lejeune, N. C., describes the camp's Negro baseball team as "hotter than any two-bit pipe in the tobacco state." The club will get a chance to prove it Sunday against an all-star Negro team at Greensboro, N. C.

The Life of EISENHOWER
First Biography of America's Great General

SOLDIER BRIDEGROOM
SECOND LIEUTENANT EISENHOWER, 24 years old, stepped from West Point into World War I. Here he was to show his genius in the new age of mechanized warfare as the organizer of the first American tank corps to enter battle.

America was preparing for the inevitable day when it would be drawn into the vortex. Thirty-six days before Ike graduated from West Point, German submarines had sunk the transatlantic passenger ship Lusitania (May 7, 1915), with a loss of 1195 lives, of whom 124 were Americans. Protests only brought defiance from the Germans. Ruthless submarine warfare came home to ships flying the American flag.

We find young Ike first assigned to the 19th Infantry at Fort Sam Houston, in San Antonio, Texas, on Sept. 13, 1915, a few miles from his birthplace in Denison. Here again he was under the shadow of the historic Alamo. Six months later when Pancho Villa began his raids over the Mexican border, burning American homes, Second Lieutenant Eisenhower was made Inspector-Instructor of Militia on the Mexican border. This was his job from Aug. 1, 1916, to April 1, 1917. Punitive forces under Gen. John J. Pershing began chasing the bandit into the Mexican mountains. Some years later, after Pershing had won fame leading the American Expeditionary Forces in France, Villa was ambushed and killed in Durango.

Daniel S. Miller, now a military policeman at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, tells this story about young Eisenhower at Fort Sam Houston in the fall of 1915. Miller was Ike's first orderly.

"One evening I had a date at San Antonio and needed a pair of

Cards After An All-Time Record

Need 36 More Wins To Beat All-Time Season's High Total

By Jack Hand Associated Press Sports Writer

No longer content with a mere National league pennant, the St. Louis Cardinals today hitched their wagon to a star and soared after a new all-time winning record under the impetus of a month-long record of 23 victories in 27 starts.

If the Red Birds take 35 of their remaining 45 contests, Manager Billy Southworth will have the satisfaction of tying the 38-year-old standard set by Frank Chance's Chicago Cubs who won 116 games in 1906.

As the Cards have captured 81 and lost 28 to date for a .743 percentage and need only a .778 gait to match the record, prospects of a new mark were bright. Since the defending champs started to roll in high gear July 22, they have maintained a .852 percentage and given no signs of slackening.

Even Pittsburgh's 11-straight plunge into temporary control of the second place situation, had to take a back seat to St. Louis' mad rush down the stretch. Tying the Chicago mark was a rousing incentive to keep the Cards bearing down although the flag was "in the bag" with a 17½ game lead.

Chunky Max Lanier earned his fifth shutout last night as the Cards humbled New York, 7-0, for the Giants' tenth successive defeat. It was Lanier's 16th victory and Ewald Pyle's sixth loss with three St. Louis double plays featuring.

Pittsburgh stretched its streak to 11 by trimming the Phils, a doubleheader, 7-6 and 6-5 in 10 innings. Bob Elliott's triple scoring Jack Barrett in the eighth was the big blow in the first when Xavier Rescigno notched his seventh triumph. Pete Coscararat sent Nick Strincevich home in the 10th to let the rookie pitcher win his ninth at Dick Barrett's expense in the second game.

Jim Tobin was belted for 14 blows before he gave way after a ninth-inning injury but his Boston Braves outslugged Chicago 7-5. Cincinnati and Brooklyn were rained out of a morning game.

St. Louis lengthened its American league lead to 7 games by doubling the score of the Athletics 10-5, with Vern Stephens' 15th homer sparking a game-winning rally for Nels Potter who has captured his last six outings. Jess "Sunday Pitcher" Flores was the loser.

The Yankees slaughtered Cleveland, 10-3, with Johnny Lindell's five hits showing the way, four of them being doubles to tie a major league record held jointly by 19 men. New York pulled into a third place tie with Detroit when the Tigers and Red Sox had to call it quits in the sixth because of rain with the score tied, 3-3.

Hal Trosky's long outfield fly scored Guy Curtright with the only run as the Chicago White Sox blanked Washington, 1-0, behind Bill Dietrich's five-hit chucking.

SAAF Gliders Will Play Stout Field

SEDALIA ARMY AIR FIELD, August 18.—(P)—Sedalia Army Air Field's baseball team, the Gliders, will board a Troop Carrier C-47 plane Saturday morning, August 19, and swoop down upon the 1st Troop Carrier Command's headquarters to clash with Stout Field's ball club at Indianapolis, Ind. They will continue their journey the following day to Baer Field at Fort Wayne, Ind., to play their second road game Sunday afternoon, August 20.

Although the Glider baseball squad will miss the services of Cpl. Jim Pigott, third baseman, and Pvt. Guy Garrett, shortstop, who have left on furlough, the team is primed for a double killing over the week-end. The Gliders have won 12 games so far this season, with only five games dropped.

Sgt. Junior Smith, ex south-paw hurler for the Gliders, will pitch against Stout Field's nine, and hopes to chalk up his sixth triumph on the hill.

Sunday's game will probably see S/Sgt. Roland Green, a rangy right-hander, toil on the mound again Baer Field's ball club. Lt. Mike Feduniak, heavy-hitting Glider catcher, will work behind the plate in both games.

T/Sgt. Russell McConnell, recently returned from furlough, will again patrol rightfield as he joins the Glider power hitters who have pounded out victories over such teams as the University of Kansas, defeated twice, Missouri Valley college, Central Missouri State Teachers college, and the Sedalia Merchants.

Well, 136½, Newark, outpointed Leo Dalmaine, 135½, Worcester, Mass. 8.
FALL RIVER, Mass.—Pat Demers, 133, Brockton, knocked out Al Priola, 130, Rochester, N. Y., 3.

Life Term For Killing Horseman

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 18.—(P)—Collett Holloway, 27 year old Tulsa truck driver was started on his way to the state penitentiary at McAlester Thursday night to begin serving life sentence less than 36 hours after the robbery and slaying of Glenn W. Higdon, well known horseman, which he confessed.

Common Pleas Judge S. J. Clendinning pronounced sentence in the case which marked a county record for rapid fire solution and disposition when Holloway waived a jury trial and entered a plea of guilty.

In a written confession read in to the court records Holloway said Higdon drove to a downtown point at midnight Tuesday where he had asked him to meet him under the pretext of discussing a transaction in illicit whiskey.

When Higdon arrived, Holloway related, he put his hand beneath his shirt to simulate a gun and told the former: "This is a stick-up."

He said he ordered his victim to drive to the city outskirts where Higdon was instructed to stop the machine. As they alighted, he said, the horseman grabbed a large stone lying on the roadside and attempted to strike him with it.

In the ensuing tussle Holloway said he wrested the missile from Higdon and beat him over the head with it until the latter ceased struggling.

Holloway said he took $20 from Higdon's pockets and tossed the body into a field skirting the road where it was found early Wednesday.

The defendant fled from the scene in Higdon's automobile but later abandoned the machine. He was arrested Wednesday night as he was spotted cruising about the downtown district in a taxicab.

Suspicion was first directed at Holloway by friends of Higdon who knew of their appointment and became alarmed when the latter failed to return.

DAILY WASHINGTON

merry-go-round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—Hard working WPB Boss Donald Nelson has given some straight-from-the-shoulder advice to William Batt, president of the SKF ball-bearing company, advising him to resign from the War Production Board or else resign from SKF.

Some time ago, before the use of Swedish SKF ball bearings by Germany became a hot international issue, Batt had a frank talk with Nelson, admitting that his connection with the Swedish ball-bearing firm might prove embarrassing. He explained, however, that while he was head of the Philadelphia SKF plant, he had no active connection with the Swedish parent company.

"I can understand the situation perfectly," Nelson replied, but the public might not. Why don't you resign—sever your connections completely—the way I did from Sears Roebuck. Then you feel absolutely a free man. You aren't beholden to anyone."

Batt, however, did not resign, continued to get a dollar a year from the government and his full salary from SKF.

Later, when the shipment of SKF ball-bearings from Sweden to Germany was responsible for the loss of American lives; Nelson sent for Batt and advised him again to resign either from the War Production Board or from SKF. Batt re-explained his position, said he had nothing to do with the Swedish firm.

"You're using logic," Nelson replied, "when boys are being killed with SKF ball bearings. People don't use logic in war, they use emotions. I don't blame them for demanding that you resign either from the WPB or from your firm."

Batt, however, replied that he didn't want to resign from the War Production Board under fire, and that he couldn't make the sacrifice of severing twenty-five years' connection with the SKF firm.

Kind hearted Donald Nelson did not argue further. Meanwhile, SKF ball bearings are still being shipped from Sweden to Germany.

Note—Since Batt works for a foreign company, he is not even salary with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Thus, while he's a vice chairman of the WPB at $1 a year, no one knows how much he gets from a foreign company. Executives of U. S. companies are required to file.

FDR Jolts Censors

President Roosevelt probably didn't know it, but he gave certain censorship boys in the White House, the army and the navy a bad jolt in his speech from the Bremerton navy yard last week.

Fact was FDR visited a whole string of American bases on his Pacific trip, was willing to permit publicity on where he had been. However, hush-hush boys in censorship decided at the last minute to kill any reference to Adak Island in Alaska so that the Japs wouldn't know we were using it as a large base.

The navy had already okayed the release of pictures of the Adak visit, together with captions revealing that Roosevelt had been there.

So, at the last minute, the White House sent out a quick "kill" to all editors, withdrawing revelation of the Adak visit. The "kill" came only after a lengthy two-hour conference between White House aide Tom Blake and army-navy censorship boys.

Pay-off came next night when Roosevelt himself revealed he had been to Adak, described the base there. Were faces red among the censorship crowd!

Note—Though the presidential cruise is now history, censors still will not permit publication of how many ships accompanied FDR, or any hint of their type.

Capital Chaff

Friends of both men got an ironical laugh from FDR's reference to "my old friend General MacArthur" in the Bremerton navy yard broadcast. . . . It was only a few short years ago that MacArthur sailed for the Philippines boiling mad because Roosevelt wouldn't reappoint him chief of staff; and only a few short weeks ago that Congressman Miller of Nebraska released the MacArthur letters strongly criticizing the Roosevelt administration. Up until then, FDR was worried about MacArthur candidacy. . . . Busman's holiday: Walter Winchell sitting in the Stork club until all hours of the night—on a vacation. . . . Seen at the Capitol: Senator Russell of Georgia carefully teaching a stray dog to go through the revolving doors of the senate office building. The pup had got penned up inside the senate and didn't appreciate the atmosphere. . . . Politicos are watching the campaign of Colorado newspaper publisher Arthur Wimmer against GOP Congressman Chenoweth. . . . In North Dakota, farmers have to scrimp on tires and gasoline to get their crops to market. But on Sundays they see German prisoners carried in army trucks to nearby lakes for a swim. . . . If the army cleaned up all its spare tires and trucks rotting in Hattiesburg, Miss., in Alaska, and near the Rock Island railroad freight yards in Chicago, Illinois, all the farmers in North Dakota and a dozen other states would be able to get to market.

Justice Black's Face

Home spun Barney Whatley, Democratic candidate for Senator from Colorado, dropped in on some of his old Washington friends the other day—among others, his former law partner, Justice Hugo Black of the U. S. supreme court.

Whatley moved to Colorado after practicing law in Alabama. Before a large crowd of friends in Washington, he told this story on his old law partner, the supreme court justice:

"My first client, when I started practicing law, was a colored woman. And since Hugo Black had got out of law school a little ahead of me, he seemed to think he should have her as his client. But after a few weeks, the colored lady came to me and said that she wanted me to handle her case."

"Aren't you satisfied with Mr. Black?" I asked.

"Oh, yes," she said, "Mistah Black talks powerful learned. But a lawyer's got to have a mean face, and Mistah Black's got too nice a face to be a good lawyer."

Explain New Rulings On Cafes

New rulings under Maximum Regulation Number 2, to go into effect not later than August 26, were discussed and explained at a called meeting of restaurant owners and operators of the county in conjunction with the regular meeting of the War Price and Rationing Board panel at the court house Thursday night.

Some 50 restaurant operators were present. Under the new ruling governing a price freeze now being affected on all foods served by cafes, clubs and restaurants, copies of the menus and price lists of all such establishments must be submitted in triplicate to the board.

In turn, a poster will be issued to each owner or operator on which to display prices in their places of business. These prices must compare with prices filed with the board for the period April 4-10, 1943. As many as 40 items may be listed on the posters, with the number of items classifying the business as to its type.

Because materials arrived late at the local office, an extension of time has been granted for the filing of the required information. A number of owners were not present at Thursday night's meeting.
